Working for you: Custom Media Manufacturing

Propagate Success.

Custom media manufacturing is a popular service because it can eliminate the daily grind of making your own media, weighing up additional components, and crafting supplement mixes. We have shown proven productivity improvements with media customized to our users' exact specifications. We can create packaging in sizes that meet your needs and even prepare sterile-filtered stock solutions for thermolabile components.

We have produced anywhere from 10's of million liters of custom media per year, to batches as small as 100 liters for pilot testing. Regardless of scale, we have decades of technical and manufacturing expertise to ensure that your media are reliable and high quality. .

Why Custom Media

- Save valuable time weighing one homogenous powder that would otherwise be used towards weighing individual components.
- Avoid mistakes when weighing and mixing components.
- Have peace of mind working with a perfectly blended powder tailored to your exact specifications, with lot-to-lot consistency and reliability.
- Save cost on labor, overhead, storage, and materials.

Key Features of PhytoTech's Custom Media Manufacturing

- All custom media processes adhere to ISO-9001:2015 standards just like our stock media production.
- Batches can be packaged in bulk, or in package sizes that meet your daily needs.
- More cost effective with larger batch sizes.
- Each custom medium receives a dedicated part number for proper recording and to reorder with ease.
- Every custom medium remains confidential, and NDA's can be established.

Is Custom Media Right for You?

- Are you adding, or varying concentrations of, components in MS, DKW, WPM, or any other existing formulations?
- Have you developed a proprietary formulation?
- Are you experiencing inconsistencies with plant performance when making media?
